NEWSSTAND EDITOR'S PICKS

Lack of health literacy 'major barrier' in CVD prevention, treatment

A new scientific statement issued by the American Heart Association (AHA) suggests limited health literacy is a major barrier that blocks many people from achieving good cardiovascular health or benefitting from effective treatment for myocardial infarction, heart failure, stroke and other cardiovascular diseases.

Cardiology Societies Call for Better Radiation Dose Tracking

A new consensus document on how to mitigate radiation exposure in cardiac imaging for both patients and staff was issued in May, and it advocates for greater use of radiation dose monitoring technologies.

Ticagrelor Doesn't Carry Any Off-Target Effects Compared With Clopidogrel, Prasugrel

New randomized data are crossing out a long-held hypothesis many assumed about how the potent antiplatelet agent ticagrelor works. Contrary to expectations, the drug does not appear to convey any additional off-target effects related to endothelial function or increased systemic adenosine plasma levels compared with prasugrel and clopidogrel in stable patients following an ACS.
